

Sanlam Global Artificial Intelligence Fund

Artificial intelligence (AI) is driving change across the global economy.

The influence of AI is set to permeate every sector worldwide as its reach continues to accelerate and broaden, creating compelling investment opportunities.

Recent years have seen a massive cost compression in the generation, storage, transfer and use of data, facilitating better-informed business, consumer, and investment decisions. As AI-enabling technologies become cheaper and easier to access, more and more companies are engaging with AI, transforming their business models, and increasing their competitive advantage.
